Darren,

I have looked at the consultation responses and if our clients were successful with the review, we would work with the drainage engineers to ensure that there was no adverse effect to other properties in the local. The site in general is flat and the access road exists therefore every effort would be made to ensure all drainage did not impact on any of the surrounding properties or those lying at lower levels.

I trust an email will suffice in this instance but if you need this in letter form please just let me know.

Regards

Colin
