

What you pay for your water and waste water services in 2018/19

Scottish Water

Trusted to serve Scotland

We work 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to keep the water cycle running and your charges low.

Each year we invest every penny we collect through customer charges to run and improve your water and waste water services.

We maintain and are improving 245 water treatment works and 30,124 miles of water pipes to deliver 1.35 billion litres of clear, fresh drinking water every day, so it's there day or night when you turn on the taps.

We also maintain and are improving 1,848 waste water treatment works and 31,814 miles of sewers to take away 945 million litres of waste water and help protect the natural environment in your area.

On average, we carry out 1 quality test every 2 minutes[†] on the tap water we supply, to make sure that you enjoy your supply of Scottish drinking water.

[†]This is based on 2016 figures, the most up to date figures available at time of going to print.

This costs less than £1 a day for the average household.

*The average household is between Council Tax Band B and Band C and has a combined bill of less than £1 a day. Individual Water Supply and Waste Water Collection charges are less than £1 a day for all households (except for the individual Waste Water Collection charges for Band G households and the individual Water Supply and Waste Water Collection charges for Band H households).

Promising to give you value for money

We continue to successfully deliver a quality service to our customers. The quality of your Scottish drinking water has never been better, and we work to deliver these essential services to you in an affordable and sustainable way.

To help us make sure that we can continue to provide you with at least the same high levels of service that you currently receive, in 2018/19 the Combined Services charge for the average household will rise by around £6 from the amount last year. At £363, the average Scottish Water bill will still stay lower than the average bill in England and Wales.

Doing the right thing – for your home and Scotland

There are lots of simple but effective things we can all do to help keep the water cycle running smoothly. These will help protect your home, your local community and the rivers, burns, coastal waters and beaches in your area:

- Put all wipes and other bathroom waste in the bin, not down the toilet;
- Recycle or put all cooled fat, oil and grease in the bin, not down the sink[^]; and
- Use water wisely, turn off the tap while you brush your teeth.

[^] Please check with your local Council/waste contractor for info on how to recycle or dispose of used fat, oil and grease in your area.
