make a real difference

Moray is one of the smallest local authority areas in Scotland, but it is big in every other way - in terms of scenery, facilities, quality of life, and aspiration. From the snow-capped peaks of the Cairngorms to the unspoiled coastline of the Moray Firth, the area has everything to stimulate the senses.

Moray prides itself in having an environment which is welcoming, friendly and safe and where a true sense of community thrives.

Small wonder then that we have the fastest growing population in Scotland.

Working in Moray will be the best move of your career.

The facts speak for themselves -

- primary class sizes lower than the national average;
- improving exam results;
- increased staying-on rates; and
- better than average numbers of leavers ending up in positive destinations.
